IFSEC2009
SECURITY INDUSTRY AWARDS

Dear Richard Zybert,

On Monday 11th May, the IFSEC Security Industry Awards 2009 were handed out to the deserved winners at a black-tie gala dinner at the Hilton Birmingham Metropole. The awards acknowledge the people, products and technological advancements that have played a big part in the security industry over the past year.

We would especially like to congratulate our winners:

Access Control Product of the Year

TAB Systems
smarti ELECTRA
www.tab-systems.com/ProductsElectra

smartⁱ® ELECTRA combines multimodal biometric access control based on facial and voice recognition and a myriad of other features: time & attendance, building automation, video surveillance, IP phone, built-in RFID reader, power over Ethernet, integrated communication ports and a relay I/O controller.

Intruder Alarm Product of the Year

Category sponsors

Optex (Europe)
RLS-3060 Redscan
www.optex-europe.com

The new Redscan RLS3060 is a sophisticated next generation outdoor laser detector. The detector can detect a moving object's size, speed and distance, and process that information with an unique algorithm, resulting in a high-reliability detection of intruders with minimal false alarms.

Guarding Service Delivery to Customer

Wilson James, V&A Museum of Childhood
and
Carlisle Security, Merseyrail Electrics Security Team
www.carlislesecurity.co.uk

Carlisle Security's Merseyrail Enforcement Team perfectly captures the zeitgeist of cutting edge rail based security requirements for the modern age. By harmonising physical and electronic security it is designed to deliver a positive travel experience for those who abide by the law by robustly dealing with those who do not.

Policing Partnership of the Year

Docklands Light Railway Travel Safe Officer Team
and Carlisle Security and the British Transport Police
www.carlislesecurity.co.uk

DLRs TSO partnership with BTP is a highly successful, progressive model of modern complementary policing. The demographically diverse community focused, highly trained TSO Team operationally integrate with the BTP on a daily basis to enhance passenger and staff safety & security. Joint briefings/operations, shared intelligence and most importantly shared goals make this partnership successful. 98% of the surveyed public cant be wrong!
